10

Your responses were detailed and showed a good understanding of the questions asked. However, try to give more specific examples rather than general statements to make your answers more impactful.

Next time, try to give more specific examples from your experiences to make your answers more relatable and memorable for the interviewer.

Stress

0

10

Your responses were quite creative and showed your enthusiasm and interest in your field. However, you could have provided more specific examples and details to further highlight your skills and experiences.

Try to provide specific examples from your past experiences and projects to showcase your skills and knowledge. This can make your responses more impactful and memorable for the interviewer.

Engagement

0

Your responses were well thought out and showed your enthusiasm for your field. However, some of your answers seemed a bit vague and could benefit from more specific examples. Next time, try to provide concrete instances to illustrate your points.

Practice providing specific examples to illustrate your points. This will help you come across as more knowledgeable and confident in your responses.

Emotion Quotient

Creativity

0

You have provided relevant answers with a good level of detail. However, it would have been better if you could have provided some real-life examples to support your answers. Also, try to speak more confidently and with a clearer tone.

10

Communication

0

Your answers were thoughtful and showed your passion for data science and artificial intelligence. However, it would have been helpful for you to provide more specific examples of how you have applied your skills in real-life situations. Additionally, it would have been beneficial for you to ask more questions to gain a better understanding of the company and the role.

Try to provide more concrete examples of how you have applied your skills in previous projects or experiences. Always ask questions to show your interest and gain a better understanding of the company and role.

Confidence

0

You gave good answers with clear examples and demonstrated your interest and enthusiasm for your chosen field. However, it would have been better if you had more experience and understanding of corporate work.

10

 Describe a project or assignment that you're particularly proud of. What were the challenges, and how did you overcome them to achieve success?

I am particularly proud of my movie recommendation system model which I have made. It is quite nicely made and I am very proud of it. I am even learning web development to make a website based on it and I am doing JavaScript for this. When I start understands how web companies work, just by educating them, they pay attention to others and software developers out there.

"Unfortunately, it seems like you may not have the relevant work experience to answer this question. Can you provide any examples from your academic or personal life where you had to handle a difficult situation? It's okay if it's not from a professional setting."

Interviewer Question 5

 Can you recall a time when you had to handle a difficult or unexpected situation at work? How did you resolve it, and what did you learn from the experience?

I have never really worked in any company, so I'm not sure how to answer this question properly. From what I have learned as a student, I will try to pass my 10 years of experience because I think an opinion of an experienced person has quite an authority and could very well help. I haven't done any corporate work.

"Your answer reflects a strong commitment to personal and professional growth, indicating that you prioritize skill acquisition over immediate financial gain. This approach is highly valued in the tech industry and demonstrates a desire for long-term success. Keep this mindset as you pursue your career in coding."

Interviewer Question 6

 What is more important in your first job? Learning or Earning.

I think learning will be more important in my first job because earning can be increased afterwards in time and I am not really in a hurry to have money. I am not really in for as much money as I am in for learning my skills.

"Your explanation demonstrates ownership of the mistake and a clear plan to rectify the situation. It is good to see that you are taking steps to identify and avoid similar mistakes in the future. Your approach of seeking input from your team shows accountability and collaboration."
